

Name: Mollie Jackson

Hometown: Bemidji, MN

Where are you at in life now?: I am in a process of change. I had 1 ½ years of college, and decided to move home this past semester. I am learning to trust in the Lord more than ever. He is showing me that He is truly faithful and will help me through anything. A song that has been sticking with me a lot in this time is "Something Heavenly (Whatever You're Doing)" by Sanctus Real

Last good book you read: Authentic Beauty by Leslie Ludy

Last good movie you saw: Tangled

Favorite food: Peanut butter and pickle sandwiches. (Try it before you hate it!)

A country you would like to visit:

Uganda. I am supporting a child named Demyano Kirya through Compassion International, and I want to meet him someday. And Ireland, it is so beautiful.

A Bible character (other than Jesus) you would like to meet: Esther, she was so bold and took a huge step of faith.

A Bible verse that has been important to you this year: "But I trust in You, O Lord' I say, 'You are my God.' My times are in Your hands." – Psalm 31:14 and "I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go; I will counsel you and watch over you." – Psalm 32:8

Favorite thing about Bluewater: I have always loved Bluewater, since I was a camper in second grade to a camper as a high school graduate, and now as a second year counselor. Once you walk onto this place you just feel God's love and are able to be away from all life's distractions and just enjoy the Word and what God has for you. I love seeing how God works through the staff and even the campers teaching the staff. It is truly amazing.
