

Name: Seth Young

Hometown: Grand Forks, North Dakota

Where are you at in life now? I am going to be a senior at the Minneapolis College of Art and Design, finishing up a four year Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, majoring in illustration.

Last good book you read: Tarzan of the Apes by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Last good movie you saw: Honey I Shrunk the Kids

Favorite food: Tacos/ burritos, but I will eat most anything put in front of me barring quiche and meals of similar texture.

A country you would like to visit: Norway, there's so much natural beauty, and it's peaceful, and I like Scandinavian culture

A Bible character (other than Jesus) you would like to meet: Luke, I think it would be interesting to talk with him, because he writes everything, as an educated doctor, very rationally. I just think it would be cool to talk with him about the Gospel and stuff. ... and stuff...

A Bible verse that has been important to you this year: James 1:2-4

Favorite thing about Bluewater: The carefree worship that can be practiced there without it being distracting to others. That's just a place where it's kind of expected. Also the Beach House.
